Five Games Played In Montdel Circuit

No Hit, No Run Game Pitched by Mc- Monigle of St. Denis

There were only five games staged in the Montdel League during the past week, but those five produced enough action to add thrills to the toughest pennant grind the circuit has had in its short career. Featured in the group was the surprise 6-5 verdict turned in by the amazing St. Thomas nine to snap the five-game win streak of the St. Margaret's team and the no-hit, no-run game pitched by St. Denis' Jack McMonigle against St. Colmans, both of these being on Thursday night when a full four-game card was played.

No Sunday games were played and only one of the three listed for Monday was gotten in due to rain. In this single contest St. Denis continued its comeback by nailing the St. Laurence champs 5-2 at Upper Darby High in a five-inning affair.

In the other two Thursday battles Good Counsel handed Jim McCabe, leading pitcher of the league last season, his first setback as the Bryn Mawr nine jolted St. Laurence 4-3 at Upper Darby, while Annunciation kept on the heels of the leaders by nailing out Sacred Heart, of Manoa, 3-2, at Brookline.

Cokey O'Kane's relief hurling and a battering first inning featured the St. Thomas win over St. Margaret's at Villanova. The Narberth club had started with a four-run blast that drove starting hurler Ed Grimes out of the box. O'Kane came in to put on the brakes, pitched two-hit ball for the balance of game, giving up one run.

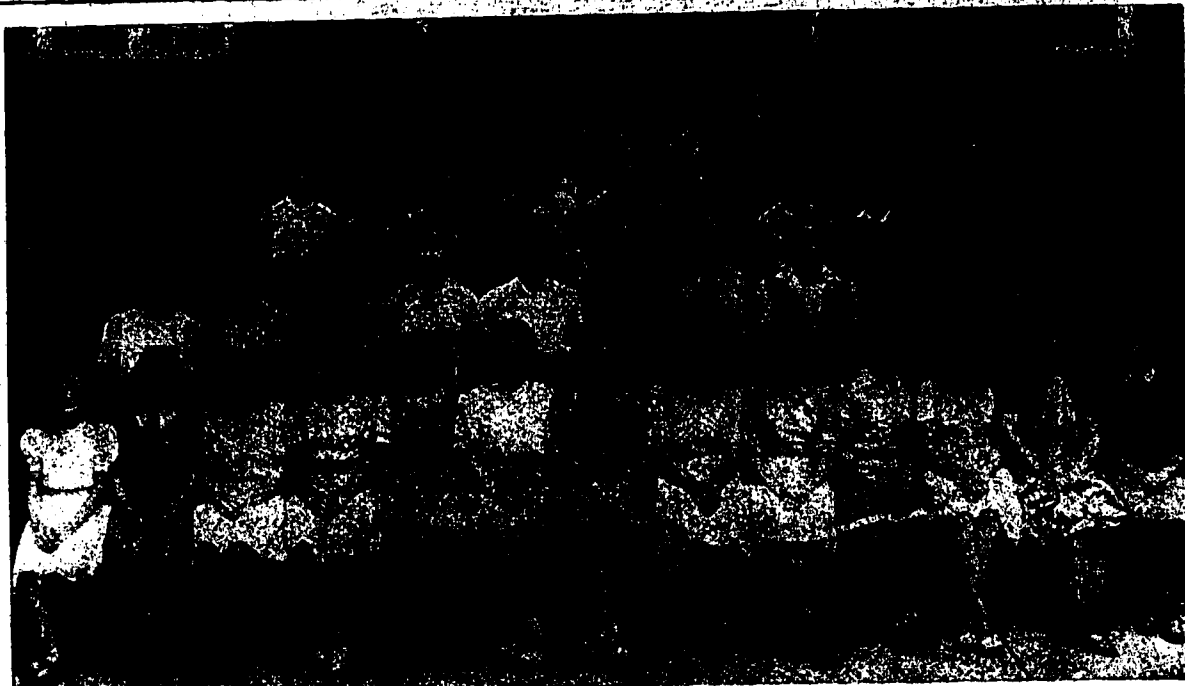

Jack McMonigle had the St. Colman's batters completely at his mercy as he pitched the first no-hit, no-run game in the history of the Montdel League. The south-

Identification Cards For Utility Workers

Utility workers who, because of their occupation, shall be eligible to be on the streets and perform their duties during blackouts or air raids, but who are not engaged in protective work as members of the Citizens Defense Corps, are now being issued identification cards for the Civilian Defense Auxiliary Groups.

These identification cards will permit the members of the utility repair squads to move during a blackout or raid in any part of Pennsylvania for their duties often require them to cross community and county lines.

Utility companies send the State Council of Defense lists of their repair men who should be appointed members of the utility repair squads after first satisfying themselves regarding the responsibility of each person.

Local Merchants Aid Victory Drive

Will Set Aside 15 Mins. Daily to Sell Stamps And Bonds

The "Retailers for Victory" drive from July 1 to July 31, the mightiest all-out sales event in the history of America's merchants, will be launched next Wednesday, and the Narberth Business Council is asking all local retailers to cooperate in this great tribute to the national war effort.

The drive will be conducted throughout the nation, in every village and hamlet, and it will officially open at noon next Wednesday, July 1, when every merchant is asked to suspend business for a fifteen-minute period, and devote that time exclusively to the sale of War Savings Stamps and Bonds.

Benjamin H. Namm, chairman of the Retail Advisory Committee of the U. S. Treasury Department, wired the Narberth Business Council, on May 23, asking for the support of Narberth merchants.

The object of the campaign is to sell one billion dollars' worth of stamps and bonds during July, and America's 1,000,000 retailers, large and small, believe they can do the job. It is also hoped to enroll all employees in the Treasury Department's ten per cent payroll allotment plan.

The month-long drive will open next Wednesday with the "White-out for Victory" from 12 noon until 12:15 p.m., when all merchandise sales will be suspended, and this time devoted to the sale of stamps and bonds only.

July 10 will be observed as "Victory Corgage Day" when a concentrated effort will be made to push the sale of corgages made of War Stamps. July 17 will be "American Heroes Day," July 30 and 31 will be "Victory Days," and August 3 will be "Victory Report Day in Washington."

All retailers should prepare for the campaign by stocking up now with stamps, and by decorating their windows. When a store reaches its quota of four per cent of its total sales volume for July of last year, and also its payroll quota of ten per cent of wages, a Treasury insignia will be presented to the merchant so that he may show the world that he is "making the grade for Uncle Sam."

Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Club Plans Outing Next Tuesday

Charles Trout of the Home Insurance Company was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club on Tuesday.

Introduced by James Campbell, Trout discussed the new War Damage Insurance and pointed out that under a new ruling the insurance will be effective as soon as the fiduciary agent receives the application. Previous rulings stated that the insurance would not be effective for three to five days after filing the application.

George Kirkpatrick presided at the meeting in the absence of Dr. Richard Mears, president of the club, who is attending the Rotary International convention in Toronto, Canada. Ralph S. Dunne and Dr. F. Munro Purse are also attending the convention.

Lauds Defense Volunteers

Appreciation for the cooperation of residents and the services performed by volunteers during Tuesday night's blackout was expressed yesterday by Francis S. Challenger, chairman of the Narberth Defense Council.

"Volunteers of the Citizens Defense Corps," declared Challenger, "have every reason to be proud of the work they did in Narberth's initial blackout test. Most of them carried out their assigned duties like veterans and the way they went about their work is the spirit in which our task of the future should be met."

Military Services For Earl D. Dickie

Died Of Heart Attack While Visiting With Friends

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon for Earl D. Dickie, former commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, who died suddenly last Saturday night.

Dickie, who was 46, was stricken with a heart attack while sitting on the lawn talking with friends. Mr. and Mrs. Dickie have been living at 117 Forrest av., Narberth, his wife's home.

Only a short time before he was fatally stricken, Dickie told friends he was feeling much better because he had given up smoking.

He is survived by his wife, the former Marguerite Mueller, and three brothers, Betchel, John and Millard, all living in Ardmore. Millard, a former member of the Lower Merion Township detective bureau, is now employed by the Sun Ship Building Corporation. His mother, Mrs. F. B. Dickie, died in January.

Services in Ardmore on Thursday at the funeral parlors of Charles M. Stuard, 104 Cricket av., were conducted by the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel.

Dickie was overseas for nearly two years in the first World War and fought in many important battles.

Military services for Dickie were arranged by his comrades in the American Legion post. Interment was at West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Dickie was formerly employed as a salesman by a Philadelphia automobile agency but for the last three months at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at Lester.

Services Held For Harold Lippincott

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Harold M. Lippincott, of Bentley rd., Cynwyd.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Arthur C. Baldwin, pastor of the Chestnut Street Baptist Church, at funeral home of Andrew J. Bair & Son, 3925 Chestnut st., Philadelphia. Interment was private.

Lippincott, the son of the late Henry B. Lippincott, formerly lived on S. Pine av., Narberth.

Defense Control Room

Starting on Tuesday night, the time of the dusk-to-dawn blackout, a 24-hour service was inaugurated at the control room of the Narberth Defense Council in the Community Building. A list of volunteers, who will serve in different shifts, will be posted later.

Aside from a misinterpretation of signals which resulted in a premature turning off of street lights, Narberth Borough's dusk-to-dawn blackout on Tuesday night was accomplished without a hitch.

Only two minor cases were reported of lights left burning. One was in a vacant house where the tenant had moved out and left an electric light switch on in one of the rooms and the other was in an apartment house at 135 S. Narberth av., where one of the tenants had gone out and forgot to extinguish a light.

The confusion of signals resulted when air raid warnings were sounded in Philadelphia or other nearby municipalities before the final red signal came through for the total blackout. On hearing these signals someone turned off the street lights and part of Narberth was in total darkness for about ten minutes. This was corrected and all of the lights went out again at 10:30 p.m. when the final signal for the total blackout came through.

One of the most thorough blackouts was reported at the Narberth Fire Company where composition board was used effectively to cover the windows and doors. Both the Narberth Theatre and the Arcadia Restaurant were effectively blacked out as well as several other stores.

Despite instructions and warning from officials of the Narberth Defense Council a number of persons tried to use the telephone during the total blackout period.

The premature total blackout for a section of Narberth also threw a number of queries into the central

J. P.'s Won't Handle "Suspicion" Cases

Intend To Live Up To The Law, Says Magistrate Lownes

Main Line magistrates have been advised by the board of the Montgomery County association not to sit or to act in cases where the defendant is booked on a "charge" of investigation or suspicion.

Local police officials in Lower Merion Township are upset by the new position being taken by the minor judiciary as it disturbs a customary police procedure of long standing.

Approximately 100 persons were picked up in the Township last year and listed on the docket under the blanket charges of "suspicion" or "investigation." They were detained in the jail for periods of time ranging from 24 to 72 hours and then taken before the sitting magistrate who dismissed them on charges of either "suspicion" or "investigation." Now, it appears from the legal advice given the magistrates by their solicitor, Raymond Pearlstone, Norrisstown attorney, that such so-called charges of "suspicion" or "investigation" do not exist.

Although, it is pointed out, that police powers, as defined by State

Tyson Resigns After 13 Years Service

After 13 years on the Lower Merion police force Reginald W. Tyson resigned Tuesday. He lives on Chatham rd. in Ardmore.

Tyson gave no reason for his sudden resignation. Superintendent of Police Samuel Gearhart was away at the time.

Last week when the commissioners met for their monthly meeting it was announced by Police Chief Gearhart that Michael Acquaviva had resigned after serving ten years in the police department. Acquaviva is believed to be considering a position in a defense plant.

Collegians Give League Shot In Arm; Narberth Faces Gladwyne Saturday

Instead of Ardmore's withdrawal crippling the Main Line Baseball League it appears to be the shot in the arm the circuit needed.

For Joe Irvin's Collegians, hastily organized late last week to take over Ardmore's franchise, accomplished more in its first two games last weekend than any other team was able to do all season. They set the Main Line abuzzing as a result of upsetting both the pace setting Gladwyne nine and the second place Manoa club.

Only Narberth had beaten Gladwyne previously and Narberth has yet to score its first victory over Manoa.

The Collegians, with only a few

The Irvinmen will be shooting for their third straight victory when they face Brookline at 68th st. and Lansdowne on Saturday and will challenge Narberth on the latter's diamond on Sunday.

However, the feature game of the weekend will pit Gladwyne against Narberth on the borough grounds on Saturday. Narberth was the first to beat Gladwyne this year and the latter will be out for revenge, needing a victory to protect

CIVILIAN DEFENSE INFORMATION

REASON FOR THE STATE-WIDE DUSK-TO-DAWN BLACKOUT

The State-wide dusk-to-dawn practice blackout which was called by the State Council of Defense had an important educational purpose. Its purpose was to teach the ten million citizens of Pennsylvania how to carry on their normal duties all night long with a minimum of light showing.

This practice blackout was called at the request of the U. S. Army First Fighter Command, which has the responsibility for protecting us for enemy attack by air. They realize that if and when our European enemy starts to send his bombers over our state, it may be necessary for us to keep in semi-darkness every night, for night after night — perhaps for weeks at a stretch. Cities within 50 miles of the coast from Maine to Florida are already operating on this basis every night.

It is one thing to shut off our lights for a half hour and keep dark and still for that brief period. It is an entirely different matter to keep our lights off for a whole night, or for a week or a month. Under these latter circumstances we are compelled to learn how to keep up our normal life in semi-darkness: to run a home, prepare meals and care for a family without our lights showing outside; to run a store, or hotel, to print a newspaper, to process and deliver milk, to continue industry — with a minimum of light inside, and with little or no light showing outside.

That is the purpose of the dusk-to-dawn practice blackout — so you will begin to learn by actual practice how to keep essential lights burning inside but with windows screened so that the reflection will not show outside to guide the enemy.

for children up to 18, will start at 10:30 a.m. under the sponsorship of the Narberth Business Council. Walter G. Case, chairman. The complete program for these events will be found elsewhere in this issue of OUR TOWN.

A hobby show is also scheduled to follow the pet show. There will be two classes—one for those up to 16 years old, the other for those over 16. Judges will be Burgess Richard L. Miller, Ralph S. Dunne, Mrs. W. J. Drennen, the Rev. James Toner, the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, the Rev. Carl Hammerly and George Schroeder. To enter, exhibitors must register before July 2 with Mrs. W. H. Boxman, Narberth 2451, or Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith, Narberth 3674.

A baseball game between Narberth and Brookline will be a major attraction of the afternoon and immediately afterward a jitterbug contest will be held on Windsor av.

The women's committee, headed by Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller, is suggesting that Narberth housewives dispense with cooking on the Fourth. At the community playground, the committee will serve, at very reasonable prices, home made food donated by the members of Narberth's various organizations. There will be sandwiches, cookies, deviled eggs, hot dogs, potato salad, soft drinks, milk, candies, pretzels and ice cream. And a nickel will buy a paper plate, cup, fork, spoon and napkin, all wrapped together. All funds derived from the sale of the food will be kept for expenses of another "Narberth Day" on July 4, 1943.

In the evening, under the sponsorship of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, a band concert is planned, to start at 8 p.m. and last for 45 minutes. Following a short intermission, moving pictures of current interest and patriotic events will be shown on an outdoor screen, at the playground, and Narberth Day will wind up with street dancing, to the music of the band, on Windsor av. which will be roped off for the occasion. Burns D. Best, Commander of the Speakman Post, is chairman of the committee in charge of the evening portion of the day's program.

School Picnic Party

The Mothers Club of St. Matthias School is planning a picnic party for the early part of July to be held at the Thomas Vandiver American Legion Post. Mrs. William Myers is chairman of the club and Mrs. Alexander is chairman of the ways and means committee.

control room at the Narberth Community Building from where all defense activities were being directed. This overloaded the board for a few minutes, but normal operation was resumed again as soon as the lights were turned on. Burgess Richard L. Miller, director of defense in the Borough, was in charge of the control room.

Inspection of the operation of services and direction of the machinery through which the blackout was made effective was under Francis S. Challenger, chairman of the local Defense Council. In the Borough Joseph L. Kelly is chief air raid warden and Thomas Merkel, head of the Volunteer Medical Service Corps.

One or more high explosive or gas bomb incidents were planned for 11 sectors in the Borough. One of these resulted in the "demolition" of the Narberth av. railroad bridge which necessitated traffic being detoured at that point. In another incident the fire company answered a call in the business district. Where gas bombs fell volunteers were required to identify the kind of poisonous gas it was from the odor.

statute, permit a man to be held 48 hours for questioning and investigation, there is nothing in the law which requires him to be arraigned for a hearing before the justice of the peace.

Police heads are objecting to the change in procedure because they claim their "hands will be tied" if the matter isn't made a formal procedure before the magistrate.

Magistrates are pointing out that the only time they are legally required to sit is when a specific charge has been lodged against a defendant.

The solicitor for the magistrates contends that the police should act on their own powers and not expect the magistrate to share this responsibility with them, especially where such a serious point is involved as a man's constitutional rights.

"Naturally, I am taking the advice of our Association's solicitor," declared Walter B. Lowmes, Jr., who is the sitting magistrate in Lower Merion. "We are anxious to see that residents of the Township are given their full measure of police protection whether they are in their homes or out walking their dogs around the block. Also, we believe that both police and magistrates should live up to the law and not attempt to pull a common law interpretation out of the hat just to suit the occasion or their idea of how certain things should be done."

Narberth Releases Simons and Howlett

Linked by the poor defensive play of his team last week, Gene Davis, Sr., manager of the Narberth Baseball Club, announced yesterday the unconditional release of pitcher Buddy Simons and infielder Buzz Howlett and the signing of two new players.

Major McDonnell, former Villanova pitcher, and Frank Cooney, an outfielder who has been playing with Bartram in the South Philadelphia League, will make their bow with Narberth on Saturday.

Joe Mahalle, former Villanova catcher who played with Ardmore until the latter dropped from the league, joined the borough club last week-end.

Simons, league leading pitcher two years, won only two games in four starts. Howlett was one of the club's heavier hitters, having an average of .379 and leading the league doubles with eight to his credit.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY NEWS ITEMS

Brokers, auctioneers, and proprietors of theatres and amusements have been notified by County Treasurer Mary H. Beerer, in Court Room D at the Montgomery County Court House, that properties disposed of were those on which county taxes remain unpaid for 1937 and prior years.

Information published by the Census Bureau on the number of school years completed by persons 25 years and over in 1940 shows that a smaller percentage of this age group in Montgomery County had received no schooling than in the state as a whole.

In Pennsylvania the median number of school years completed was 3.2, while in Montgomery County it was 3.8 for the males and 3.9 for the females.

Montgomery County had 173,047 residents 25 years old or older, of whom 4,284, constituting 2.4 per cent, reported they had received no schooling whatever. For Pennsylvania the percentage with no schooling was 4.06.

In the State, 60.4 per cent of the age group had gone to grammar school. In Montgomery the percentage was 50 per cent, representing 86,761 persons. This group includes those who went to one year of grammar school, as well as those who completed the eight years but went no farther.

Those with some secondary education but no college numbered 37,604 in Montgomery County, representing 31.2 per cent of the age group inured. In Pennsylvania the percentage was 26.3.

Thirteen and one-tenth per cent of those 25 and over in Montgomery County had attended or been graduated from or completed post graduate work in a college or university, while in the State as a whole the percentage was only 8.1.

College men and women numbered 22,733 in Montgomery County.

Approximately 1,500 properties in Montgomery County went under the hammer at sales conducted this week by County Treasurer Mary H. Beerer, in Court Room D at the Montgomery County Court House.

Properties disposed of were those on which county taxes remain unpaid for 1937 and prior years.

Mrs. Robinson Phipps, Collegeville, was elected President of Montgomery-Bucks Bi-County Council of the American Legion Auxiliary at the regular meeting of the council held last Thursday at the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Plans for the annual Summer outing were discussed last Thursday at the final meeting of the Montgomery County Police Chiefs Association at the Pennsburg Fire Company.

Chief Harry White of Bryn Athyn was appointed chairman of a committee to select a site and date.
